

LOCATION-BASED IMAGE SHARING

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

5 A method and system for location-based image sharing is disclosed. The method comprises providing a sharing rule defining with which one or more recipients images are shared based on location-identifying information, and applying location-identifying information associated with an image to the sharing rule to determine the one or more recipients with which the image should be shared. The system comprises a sharing rule defining with which one or more recipients images are shared based on location-10 identifying information, and a sharing engine to apply location-identifying information associated with an image to the sharing rule to determine the one or more recipients with which the image should be shared.